

MRS. REID PLANS BOOK ON ASYLUM

Will Write of the Life of a Sane Woman in Bloomingdale.

HAPPY IN HER FREEDOM

Living Among Crazy Persons, and Watched as One, Enough to Cause Madness.

(Special to The Evening World.) MOUNT VERNON, Nov. 23.—One of the happiest women in the State is Mrs. Sarah Deane-Reid, released by order of County Judge Platt from the Bloomington Asylum, where she had been placed by her three brothers on the day following her marriage to Capt.
Alfred Deane-Reid, formerly of the British army.

She told an Evening World reporter to-day she told of her impression of life in the madhouse. She said:

"No one can possibly realize what it means to be locked up in an asylum, when you realize that you are sane. The circumstances were enough to drive one mad. I kept my head, however, and proved to Judge Platt that I was not crazy."

"When I was first sent to the asylum by my brothers in 1904 I formed a general opinion of the place and decided to write a book on the inner workings of the asylum from the standpoint of a sane victim. I intend in a short time to carry out my plan."

A Monotonous Life.

"Bloomington is a most monotonous place. You are surrounded by a lot of wild people and attendants. Every time you move you are watched; and if you go for a walk in the yard there are two nurses with you. It is like being in prison. The windows of the ward are barred like a prison."

"The discipline at the asylum assumes that you are insane, and hence the attendants and care of you is not only humiliating, but nerve-wrecking. Indeed, it is hard to express in words the suffering endured by a sane patient in an insane asylum. Your surroundings and treatment, the actions of attendants and nurses and the feeling you possess is enough to cause insanity. It is sufficient to drive one mad to see and mingle with these unfortunate people, who have my greatest sympathy. God help any woman who in full possession of her faculties is incarcerated in a lunatic asylum. Most of your associates are queer, and the words of the word, the actions, all remind you of the horrible state you are supposed by the attendants to be in."

"The routine is most monotonous. I was in a ward where there was sometimes six or seven crazy people. You get up in the morning, eat breakfast, dinner and tea, and then you go to bed.
That is the daily course, not forgetting the daily inspection of doctors and perhaps a walk in care of two attendants in case you are able."

Happy Over Vindication.

"I was never insane and of course expected to be released as soon as my case was submitted to the court. In this I was not disappointed. I was glad of the trial for it brought to light the fool play of my brothers."

"My brothers desired and suggested to my attorney that the trial be held in secret, but I opposed this plan and so did not attend. I would not consent, because I wanted the whole world to know my story from start to finish. I want to say I never threatened to end my life at the home of my brother in New Rochelle, and the testimony that my sister-in-law hid a knife from me so I could not harm myself was false."

PRETTY GIRL MISSING.

Nineteen-year-old Margaret Palmer, and to be the prettiest girl on the west side, is missing from her humble home in the rear of No. 415 West Twenty-fifth street. She has raven black hair, blue eyes and fair skin.

Her mother reported the girl's disappearance last night at the Tenderloin Police Station, saying that Margaret went away last Thursday night with Hazel McDonald, a girl of color, of whom she had been visiting her.

"She is a good girl," said the mother, "and has been my sole support. I fear she is being detained somewhere against her will."

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—A crowd of nearly 200 persons surrounded and threatened Paul B. Huette, of No. 463 curred at Chelton avenue and Main street, Germantown, where Mrs. Rice was standing in the street waiting for a car.

the corner at reckless speed and without warning. Mrs. Rice suffered severe contusions and probable internal injuries.

Huette was rescued from the angry mob by the police and placed under arrest. He was held under $500 bail.

HE STOLE BOOKS TO PAY PASSAGE HOME.

English Youth of Good Family Ran Away from Home to China.

Walter Wilson is the name, admittedly fictitious, of a young man who was arraigned before the justices of Special Sessions to-day charged with stealing books from a Sixth avenue department store. Through an attorney Wilson said he came here six months ago and went to San Francisco, that there his money gave out, and, rather than cable his people for assistance, he walked all the way here from the coast and has since been trying to get enough money together to go back to London.

"If I mentioned the name of this man," said the lawyer, "you would be astonished. He comes of one of the best families in England."

Wilson admitted that this was true and agreed to give his name to Judge Deuel in confidence. He did so, and an investigation is now being made of his history.

When young Wilson had a personal interview with Justice Deuel he said his mother, who lives at No. 4 Berkeley square, London, is in receipt of an income of $10,000 annually, and that his father is an electrical contractor, who equips most of the royal palaces with electrical apparatus.

He said that eight months ago he ran away from home and sailed on a steamer for Colombo, Ceylon. From there he went to China and Japan and then came to the United States, landing at San Francisco. There he received from his mother a remittance of twenty pounds, he said, and came on to New York, having $10 here when he met some sailors from the British fleet.

"I spent my money like a good fellow," he said, "and I needed more money quickly. I did not have time to send home for it and so I took the books, thinking I could get enough for them to pay my passage home."

Has Violated the Arbitration Agreement.

In view of the fact that the striking architectural ironworkers have been unable to get any concessions from the firm of Post & McCord, the question of calling a general strike of the household and bridge men will be considered at a meeting to be held at Manneshor Hall to-night. The ironworkers allege that Post & McCord have violated the arbitration agreement and that they have been justified in tying up all the Post & McCord jobs in Manhattan, numbering more than twenty-five.

Post & McCord have asked for assistance from the Building Trades Employers' Association, but all the assistance they have received has been of a "moral character." There is opposition among the contractors who have had no trouble with the iron workers against ordering a lockout at this time when the

A Cabinet meeting has been called for to-morrow. This will be only the second held this fall, and the fact that there have been so few conferences between the Ministers is taken as another indication of the imminence of a change of government.

On the Stock Exchange a definite announcement of the resignation of the Cabinet is expected at any time, and the whole market to-day was flat in consequence.
